A Traditional And Characterful Townhouse Which Offers Extremely Surprising Family Accommodation, South Facing Garden And Views Of The River Tweed From The Rear.

Located in the heart of Coldstream, 68 High Street is a deceptively spacious and characterful period home offering generous, flexible family accommodation. Much like a city-centre townhouse, the property provides an adaptable layout, with several rooms that can be tailored to suit a variety of lifestyles.

A particular highlight is the private south-facing garden – a rare and highly desirable feature for this section of the High Street. Beautifully blending contemporary styling with traditional period charm, the home retains many original features including high ceilings, sash and case windows, decorative cornicing and Victorian floor tiling. At the same time, it offers excellent scope for a new owner to personalise and further enhance the property to their own taste.

The thoughtfully designed split-level layout creates a natural separation between the living and bedroom accommodation, while the rear-facing rooms enjoy superb elevated rooftop views across the River Tweed and towards the Cheviot Hills.

As expected from a home of this era, the rooms are impressively proportioned. The bright, dual-aspect lounge enjoys attractive views over the town centre and features a central fireplace, creating a welcoming focal point. Equally impressive is the sociable open-plan dining kitchen, complete with a central island for everyday dining and a generous space for family meals and entertaining. The main landing serves two bright bedrooms, a shower room and a separate cloakroom.

A split-level landing leads to the rear of the property, where two further spacious double bedrooms benefit from excellent built-in storage, alongside a beautifully appointed, fully tiled family bathroom.

Practicality has also been carefully considered. The welcoming ground-floor entrance hall, with its original Victorian tiled floor, provides useful storage and ample space for coats, shoes and everyday essentials.

One of the property's standout features is its delightful south-facing garden. Rarely found on this stretch of the High Street, the enclosed rear garden is accessed via a gated side entrance and is predominantly laid to lawn. Enjoying an elevated sunny position with views to the south, it offers a secure, family-friendly outdoor space that is perfect for children, summer barbecues and entertaining, while also providing plenty of potential for keen gardeners to create their ideal landscape.
